

Nothin2Say (Never Forget)

MIKE

Uh, nothin' to say, nothin' to say
Yo, yo

Sometimes I'd rather just be wrong than to settle with it
I know my mama sing that song so I'll never forget
And you still grievin' over moms, nah, I'll never forget
When I needed you, you gone, but you said we was friends
This shit I'll never forget

Like when my niggas did me wrong for the enemy set
I thought my papa took it all, he ascended to death
The tarot read me like a log, so I never reflect
The same drink that I dissolve, but I bury the sense
Lie to me, say it's calm, but I clearly regret
The Pride trickle from my palm, now I carry neglect
My tribe little, but my heart seem to carry the bed
Goodbye, so my aunt shed a tear when I left
Was back with TJ in the Bronx, shit I'll never forget
And I was grindin' all along, I was lettin' 'em rest
It's young MIKE, I give it all, and respect to the dead
Was movin' sheisty in the dark, but the message was sent

Times I'd rather, than settle with it
I know my mama sing that song so I'll never forget
And you still grievin' over moms, nah, I'll never forget
And when I needed you, you gone, but you said we was friends
This shit I'll never forget
Sometimes I'd rather just be wrong than to settle with it
I know my mama sing that song so I'll never forget
And you still grievin' over moms, nah, I'll never forget
When I needed you, you gone, but you said we was friends
Uh, this shit I'll never forget

Mm-mm-mm

It's nothin' to say all along
I wanted to stay for long
Nothing you say is wrong, it heals
It's nothin' to say all along
I wanted to stay for long
Nothing you say is wrong, it heals
Uh

It's nothin' to say all along
I wanted to stay for long
Nothing you say is wrong, it heals
It's nothin' to say all along
I wanted to stay for long
Nothing you say is wrong, it heals
