

Peace Offering

MIKE

Yeah, ay, woah

I was stuck taking time for granted
But love it, your love shine over this planet
A nugget broke down over this cancer
We puffing, J Brown told us to stand up
For nothing, days now shook with my hands up
Assumption, I fade out
Dark as some plans I had in one ear
But bae got my back, I understand my budget
My face in display of it all, your way is crazy
You made me stay home with my thoughts
Since baby, they be piling stones in my heart
You daisy, climbing out of stones in your yard
Lazy, hopping God to go for the stars
Some guy who told me you soft
My eyes is lonely in terms of the shit that it cost
My prize is only a bit of a wall
To sit with you and listen to Moore
I'm for my blood 'til it drip from my pores
In the slums with my vision restored
You travel doing dishes and tours
You know kids who persistent and poor
Kids who persistent and poor
While we walking on indigenous floors
Thanks to the sky for those who did it before

Might turn me back around
Never one to run
He-hoo
Sharpen, you compare
You-hoo
Hoo-he-hoo
Hoo-hoo-hoo
Hoo

It's the blues that made me, blues made hues turn navy
Blame me, rather bored out the main street
Pains deep, stench in my lungs like it rain free
Face out the mud, had to stain creeps
Caught in the whip but lately (But lately)
Took grace, but under glimmer it's different than lazy
Anyway past the neighbour, got the face bleached
Stood briefs at straight streets
Eyes to the sun, that's the main thing
Pretty much shadow adjacent
Hearts that's simply for patience
Think it's because of my facelift
