

Change Your Mind

Mikey Wax

Would you still want me if I said I'm one to blame?
I stare in the mirror tell me do I look the same?

I will try to change your mind
Redesign
The way you view me
I will try to change your mind
Just in time
To save us now
So try to remember
Who I was
Not who I've become
And I'll make it better
Don't be so quick to run
You were right and I was wrong
So give me time to give you more
I owe you more
But the questions remain
Is should I surrender?
Or will it all go by if we hold rewind?

I will try to change your mind
And redesign
The way you view me
I will try to change your mind
Just in time
To save us now

I will try to change your mind
And realign
The thoughts that made me
I will try to change your mind
Just in time
To save us now
