

Safehouse

MILCK

There was once a girl who lived in a round house
Her room had a window with a view of the whole town
She felt lonely though, whenever she looked out

Cause the people of her town loved tall, thin, straight lines
They made fun of her house from the outside
"Round little homes don't make good skylines"

But then one day an earthquake hit
Their tall skinny houses fell to piles of bricks
Her little round house rolled right thru the streets

With every neighbor she rolled by
She'd show forgiveness in her eyes
With arms wide open, took them by surprise

She said
I'll carry you out of the rubble
Be your shelter when yours start to crumble
I will be there if you'll let me
It don't matter the shape of your own house
I got plenty of room so just stay now
Well watch from the inside how it plays out

You'll be safe in my safe house
You'll be safe in my safe house

Her house rolled on, with her neighbors in it
Till they heard a crash! Turns out her house hit
Something hard, could it be a tree
She ran outside, eager to see

To her surprise it was a another kids home
Round and quirky like her own
When they locked eyes she felt relief
Like a long lost friend she had yet to meet

"I've never met somebody else like me
Who learned to live a life built differently"

She said
I'll carry you out of the rubble
Be your shelter when yours start to crumble
I will be there if you'll let me
It don't matter the shape of your own house
I got plenty of room so just stay now
Well watch from the inside how it plays out
You'll be safe in my safe house

Oooh, oooh, oooh
Oooh, oooh, oooh
Oooh, oooh, oooh
You'll be safe in my safe house
Thanks to the girl and her kindness (Oooh, oooh, oooh)
Everyone felt more invited (Oooh, oooh, oooh)
They made homes of all shapes and sizes (Oooh, oooh, oooh)

It don't matter the shape of your own house
We got plenty of room, so just stay now
(Just stay now, just stay now)
You'll be safe in my safe house
(Just stay now, just stay now)
You'll be safe in my safe house
(Just stay now, just stay now)
You will be safe in my safe house
