

I see everything without eyes in front of me
When you're getting near
That's just when I disappear

Well hold on cause you know this
All these things inside my head
I told you I don't know
I don't know why these feelings show, but it's all good

No, you can't change the past
You know it'll never last
Cause you can fight for these things
So you can do what you will
But in the end you know, it doesn't even really matter

Cause I see everything without eyes in front of me
I told you I don't know
I don't know why these feelings show, but it's all good

No, you can't change the past
You know it'll never last
You can fight for these things
So you can do what you will
But in the end you know, it doesn't even really matter

Because I told you not to wait
Because I made the same mistake
I made it for myself

Now I do just what I do, because I do it all for you
Listen here
Because I told you not to wait, now you call to say
Listen here
Because it's alright
