

Ransom

Miles Kane

Never gonna stop complaining
What's the point in waiting
Waiting for someone to break your heart and
I'm anticipating
A lifetime of a evasion
When I've already paid

You're holding me to ransom, honey
But I've run out of money this time
I'm looking for some answers, honey
Promise to be gentle with my mind

All the time to make ends meet
About to see a change in me
Give me a gold star, top of the charts now
Lonely as the top can be
Take a chance, make a leap
Solo crusader

You're holding me to ransom, honey
But I've run out of money this time
I'm looking for some answers, honey
Promise to be gentle with my mind

I've always struggled to find my way
Oh, but lately I've been summoned to a different kind of place
So get yourself together
And find the words to say

'Cause I'd do anything for you
'Cause I'd do anything for you
'Cause I'd do anything for you
'Cause I'd do anything for you
