

Finally Home

Miley Cyrus

I am looking up at the clouds, watching the world spin around
Something looks familiar in the color of the sky
Reminds me of the mess that I made last night
Its blue as the ocean, as wild, as the tide

Im home
In your arms is where I belong
Please don't let me go
thank god im finally home

Here I go again where I haven't been now for a while It feels so damn good to let out the smile
Can't remember the last time I felt loved

When your skin touched mine Thats how I feel so strong, when I look into your eyes and look into your soul
If your not holding me, I can't breath, Id rather die

Im home
In your arms is where I belong
Please don't let me go
