

Your First

Miley Cyrus

That sounds cool, I like that

Thinkin' about you keeps me up all night
And I can't keep pretendin' everything's alright
I wrote you a song, but you made it a fight
Bitch, why you always gotta go and kill my vibes?

You say it's not that easy
I'm being unfair and I'm being cruel
Love is never a loss, baby
Stop complicating something that's this simple

I can't live my life without you
My heart can't take it, it's breaking without you
I'm figuring out how the whole thing works
They say you never get over your first
I can't live my life without you
My heart can't take it, it's breaking without you
I'm figuring out how the whole thing works
They say you never get over your first

Your first
Your first
Your first

Wish I could think, and be more like a man
Being so disconnected, I'll never understand
How it's so easy to leave your whole life behind
I'm attracted to dysfunction, but I'm losing my mind

You said you'll never be happy
And I gotta stop blaming myself
If that's the truth, I feel sorry for you, baby
But what the fuck are you gonna find in someone else?

I can't live my life without you
My heart can't take it, it's breaking without you
I'm figuring out how the whole thing works
They say you never get over your first
I can't live my life without you
My heart can't take it, it's breaking without you
I'm figuring out how the whole thing works
They say you never get over your first

Hey, you!
Everything you do is just so 'sweet sixteen'
What are the chances that you and I would meet?
You said it's forever, and we ain't ending never
And we ain't got no worries, 'long as you and I together
And now you just can't take it
And my heart, you gonna break it
But somehow when I see you
Every time we end up naked

I wanna live my life without you
But my heart can't take it, it's breaking without you
I'm figuring out how the whole thing works

They say you never get over your first

I can't live my life without you
My heart can't take it, it's breaking without you
I'm figuring out how the whole thing works
They say you never get over your first
I can't live my life without you
My heart can't take it, it's breaking without you
I'm figuring out how the whole thing works
They say you never get over your first

Let me try it from the top, one more time
