

Swords in our hands
And justice in our heads
The birds looking down on our land
War in our hands
A dream for peace in our heads
And lovers' tears dampen our land

Remember when we're young
Even if we are fair as fair can be
Not everyone gets a cookie

All along
As the time goes on
The river flowing between us has widened the gap

They say
You're the one
You're the one
Destined to lead us to triumph
Until I have lost my crown
I never thought that they could be wrong

We don't live in a story
We don't live in a story
Even if we are fair as fair can be
Not everyone gets a happy ending

Swords in our hands
And justice in our heads
The birds looking down on our land
War in our hands
A dream for peace in our heads
And lovers' tears dampen our land

Say I'm the one
Destined to lead us to triumph
Now that I have lost my crown
Maybe we should focus on our ways
Come up with a new method
Bliss goes deeper than the surface
It is love
Destined to lead us to triumph
I'm glad I have lost my crown
It wasn't needed all along

We don't live in a story
We don't live in a story
We still aim to be fair as fair can be
We're still looking for a happy ending
