

Eden's House

Milky Chance

I burned my place with all I had
I framed it like a photograph
We glorify a golden age
And all we do is fade away
And even on a shining day
Still I don't know

Where I wanna go on the run
To Eden's house, didn't know
You can always run away from that feeling
No one ever makes you stay
When your heart is bleeding, Oh it's bleeding

And up and down is all we go
And little less is what we know
So, what's the purpose of the show?
Emotionally overflowed
And even on a shining day, still I don't know

Where I wanna go on the run
To Eden's house, didn't know
You can always run away from that feeling
No one ever makes you stay
When your heart is bleeding, Oh it's bleeding

Run away, run away
Run away, run away
Run away, run away (Aye, shit)
Run away, run away (We were on the run)

We were on the run, we were on the run
We were on the run, we were on the run
(We were on the run) We were on the run, on the run
(We were on the run) We were on the run, on the run

We were on the run, on the run (We were on the run, aye shit)
We were on the run, we were on the run
We were on the run, we were on the run
We were on the run (We were on the run)

You can always run away from that feeling (We were on the run, on the run)
No one ever makes you stay (We were on the run, on the run)
When your heart is bleeding, Oh it's bleeding (We were on the run, on the run)

Where I wanna go on the run
To Eden's house, didn't know
