

Light's Out

Millencolin

Looking back with anger, looking back with joy and laughs
Don't ask me all those questions, cause I don't have the answer s now

I tried to hold back all my thoughts and all my dreams
Just to make things better, I was using myself past my means

But all those days are gone
And I can't find the path that I should follow
I'm walking unknown land
Mile after mile I search the way back to my mind
And I can not believe how hard it is to find
When I'm down

I used to take things easy, I used to be a happy guy
But now things seem so different, that I can't even play the ga me
I got to try to find the way through all this now, yeah
So what I need now, is someone, someone to read the map cause I don't know how

'Cause all those days are gone
And I can't find the path that I should follow
I'm walking unknown land
Mile after mile I'll search the things that I can find without you now

I fell ashamed and I'm to blame
Cause I try to be, I try to see things from my side
And I also bleed, I also need some space
It's time to close this case

But all those days are gone
And I can't find the path that I should follow
I'm walking unknown land
Mile after mile I search the way back to my mind
And I cannot believe how hard it is to find Mile after mile I'll search all the things that I can find with out you now