Millencolin

When I saw you, I was not even looking
I heard you scream without raising you voice will I run or let you have your fun
I feel like I ain't got no choice.

But maybe I ask too much or wlk in the wrong direction All those thoughts drive me insane and I wonder how long i fell this.

Pain, is not really what it is no, it's something different with a different name and you, you never tell me damn thing I hope someday I'll learn to play this game.

Fear, of course I fear the unknown because the unknown is a stranger to me but if you erase the pj's then what could a stranger be that remains to be seen.

Life goes on, it's just the same every day. Life goes on, though you think you feel this pain.
