

Please Don't

Milo Greene

Please don't tempt my heart again
Weakness is a poor defense
Please don't, please don't
Please don't tempt my heart again
A love like yours ain't innocent
Please don't, please don't

Thought I was the last one that you'd love
Thought that what I gave would be enough
Time is just the melody of fate
I was secondhand in a secondhand exchange

Please don't tempt my heart again
Weakness is a poor defense
Please don't, please don't
Please don't tempt my heart again
A love like yours ain't innocent
Please don't, please don't
I can feel your eyes looking for another way to my body

Temptation is the game we always play
The house will win the rules will never change
Ooh

Please don't tempt my heart again
Weakness is a poor defense
Please don't, please don't
Please don't tempt my heart again
A love like yours ain't innocent
Please don't, please don't
I can feel your eyes looking for another way to my body
