Son My Son

Milo Greene

Son, my son
The weight is unique
One, by one
The words are complete
Your testing is calling
And we are still falling
For keeps

Just remember the weight of your world's
Only resting on me

Truth, so true
Slight tendency
For two by two
To be as they meet
Your waltz like repeating
Continues your dreaming
In threes
You will bury that hatchet with an olive branch
Tied to your knee

Only
Only when you're sleeping
Only
Only when you're sleeping

Son, my son
The weight is unique
One, by one
The words are complete
Your testing is calling
And we are still falling
For keeps

Just remember the weight of your world's
Only resting on me

Only
Only when you're sleeping
Only
Only when you're sleeping

I will never run
I would never run you away
I will never run
I would never run you away
Son my only son
I will never run you away
I will never run
I will never run you away

I will never run
I will never run
You
Away
