

She

Milow

Everybody says she's out of my league
But they don't see the way she looks at me
Oh she's wearing that red dress I like
And you would never guess that she's so shy

As everybody stares at her
They fall in love with every little thing
I love the way she's so unaware
That she's breaking every heart in here

She dances she dances slow
When she moves yeah the whole world is watching her
Tonight as she lights up the dance floor

Does everything just to hide but it's impossible
She's perfect and she doesn't even know it
She doesn't even know it

Every time she puts her hands on me
I lose all rhythm in my feet
And then the DJ plays our favorite song
All I can do is hold on

As everybody stares at her
They fall in love with every little thing
I love the way she's so unaware
That she's breaking every heart in here

She dances she dances slow
When she moves yeah the whole world is watching her
Tonight as she lights up the dance floor

Does everything just to hide but it's impossible
She's perfect and she doesn't even know it
She doesn't even know it

Now I'm standing here
Holding her as the room disappears
A thousand eyes on us
As we pretend that we're here all alone

She dances she dances slow
When she moves yeah the whole world is watching her
Tonight as she lights up the dance floor

Does everything just to hide but it's impossible
She's perfect and she doesn't even know it
She doesn't even know it

She's perfect and she doesn't even know it
She doesn't even know it
