

It's So Good to See You Again

Night's glistening face peered across a great ocean
Her black hair blowing in the warm breeze
Her fair skin bathed in warm sunlight
She stood on the beach in wait
She smiled with the sincere happiness of a child as she knelt down on the beach, feel the clean sand between her hands
The tiny grains passed between her fingers
The soft waves gently crashed against the shore
"A beautiful day and a beautiful Night.", said the man behind her
With that, the sun faded into the moon and its pale light lit the beach in a surreal hue
Night leapt to her feet and embraced the man without hesitation
"It's so good to see you again!"
The Friend affectionately patted her back
"It's been far too long."
"I wish that we had more time to catch up, but I'm afraid!"
"The situation is escalating fast."
Night's expression turned to that of a professional as she stepped back and stood attentively
"We have a traitor in our midst."
"Someone has given my designs to the Agency, to the Agency!"
Night's fists clenched tightly in anger
"Not to worry, as you know, only those with a free mind can use the device to enter the Dreamweb," he said, reassuringly
"Not to worry, as you know, only those with a free mind can use the device to enter the Dreamweb"

Not to worry, as you know, only those with a free mind...
...can use the device to enter the Dreamweb, the Dreamweb
