

new fixations

Mind's Eye

If you want me, take me home
If you don't, then let me go
Or take me to someone who cares
I just need someone to hold
Fill the space when I'm alone
A lonely night, wasted affair

I need a new fixation because I'm tired of waiting
To get you out my head, get you out my head
I need a new fixation because I'm always complaining
About you in my head, about you in my head

Preaching water, drinking wine
Distant faces left behind
Left behind the place where I come from Honest with yourself
Can you be honest with yourself?
Can I be more myself than I once was?

Don't listen to a word I say (ahh, ahh, ahh)
I know I should be on my own (ooh, ooh, ooh)
Heaven knows I ain't gonna be alone

I need a new fixation because I'm tired of waiting
To get you out my head, get you out my head
I need a new fixation because I'm always complaining
About you in my head, about you in my head
