Mindy Gledhill

The breath on my face as you whisper
Reminds me of life long ago
The ease of your hand on my shoulder
Takes me home
A child in the street telling stories
The leaves that are changing their hue
The raindrops in all of their glory
Speak of you

All the voices of time breathing reason and rhyme
Try to solve what we already know
Through the years and the days
While we're so far away
You've created a way
To be close

The tide in the harbor is swelling
The waves rushing in to my ears
A song in the wind now is telling
You are here

All the voices of time breathing reason and rhyme
Try to solve what we already know
Through the years and the days
While we're so far away
You've created a way
To be close

There's more than meets the eye
To the stars that grace the sky
The hands that made man to be
Are the hands that keep ushering me through this life

All the voices of time breathing reason and rhyme
Try to solve what we already know
Through the years and the days
While we're so far away
You've created a way
To be close
