Time Machine

Mini Mansions

People think they know you but they don't
I can never change that for you
People think they love you but they don't
I'm the only one that really do

You think you're mad as me (Mad)
You think you're finally (Glad)
You think you've found the key
I think you'll never get on my level
Soon to revel in

Baby, baby, you're the real thing
Baby, baby, you're the real thing
Maybe, maybe, if you hold on
We could be something unreal

People only need you when they're low
I can't really change their point of view
People come together, then they go
I can't make them stay there for the good

I built a time machine
I've got the recipe for love
The future's all I see
We're heading toward the right direction
Pure perfection

Baby, baby, you're the real thing
Baby, baby, you're the real thing
Maybe, maybe, if you hold on
We could be something unreal
