

Nothing Left To Say

Mint Condition

The voice so strong
At least at the beginning
Who would've thought
There'd ever be an ending
We had it all
But it's like we've run into a wall

Now we try to talk
But just end up fighting
Try making up
But there's just no denying
Just ain't the same no more
What are we putting ourselves through all this for

You talk and hear me
But you can't communicate
Cause you're not listening
Know these are two different things
Now I see what it means to have been
Blinded by the one you love so deeply
Cause,

The very things that made me love you
Are the things pushing me away now
In tears we stand here

And all I could do for you
I should've done before now
In tears we stand here
There's nothing, nothing left to say

You touched my heart
And were so givin
Spare it so free
You threw me in it
I fell so deep
I could not see my life
Without you in it

Girl you gave me
A lot of attention
Somehow the feeling turned
Into crazy possessive
It was always there
But I didn't look deeper
If I would've I'da seen the limits

You talk and hear me
But you can't communicate
Cause you're not listening
Know these are two different things

I had my pride girl
And you had your pain

So deep inside you
Wanted to have your say
Irritated, frustrated and hurt
Baby this is so confusing
Girl I thought this was the real thing for sure

The very things that made me love you

And all I could do for you

[Bridge:]
(Nothing) [x4]
Wish I had the words
To try and encourage
Us to find a way

The very things that made me love you

And all I could do for you

Things that made me love you

And all I could do for you
