Unsung

Mint Condition

We make our world a much better place
Many faces show us the way
For nothing more than to see a smile on your face
So courageously you stayed when I first turned away

No one ever wrote the story of your life
And no you never won awards for all your sacrifice
Unselfishly you changed the world lifting the song
You are number one, you are a hero unsung

Putting all your welfare aside
You took the risk and layed it all on the line
You saw them leading, and there you were Still you never asked for anything back in return

No one ever wrote the story of your life
And no you never won awards for all your sacrifice
Unselfishly you changed the world lifting the song
You are number one, you are a hero unsung...
You are a hero unsung...

No one ever wrote the story of your life
And no you never won awards for all your sacrifice
Unselfishly you changed the world lifting the song
You are number one, you are a hero unsung
No one ever wrote the story of your life
And no you never won awards for all your sacrifice
Unselfishly you changed the world lifting the song
You are number one, you are a hero unsung
You are a hero unsung, a hero unsung, a hero unsung...
