Everyone Knows

Mipso

Cold and dark, I would be the first to start
If ever there was need of fearless hearts
I'd be late for the road

And it's on and on and on
This miserable thing
And I've seen all road signs
I don't see road signs

Everyone's here, everyone knows
Wearing our pride like the emperor's clothes
You're feeling bare, and honey it shows

Old and dark, we take our sorrow a la carte
And if we should forget the parts
We just look to a friend

And that's gone
That terrible thing
And we are alright
We're always alright

Everyone's here, everyone knows
Wearing our pride like the emperor's clothes
You're feeling bare, and honey it shows

Cold and dark, and yet I believe in sparks
We could tear this thing apart
And start from the ground
Where the dawn
Dawn is breaking sometimes
And it's better than bright lights
Yeah it beats those bright lights

Everyone's here, everyone knows
Wearing our pride like the emperor's clothes
You're feeling bare, and honey it shows

Everyone knows, everyone knows, everyone knows
