

Stranger

Mipso

There's a shadow on my pillow
Where you used to lay your head
I kept waking up too early
In the middle of the bed
I drank coffee every morning
From a place that's far away
You're gone
It's gonna stay that way

Nothing from nothing leaves something
Something every time
You didn't write and you didn't call
I didn't cross your thoughts at all
You're a stranger
And all the wrongs that I have done
I know you're not the only one
You're a stranger

There's a line I still remember
From a letter that you wrote
Said I was looking for a fire
But only sending smoke
The longer that I miss you
The better I can say
You walked away
Some kinda part of me

Nothing from nothing leaves something
Something every time
You didn't write and you didn't call
I didn't cross your thoughts at all
You're a stranger
And all the wrongs that I have done
I know you're not the only one
You're a stranger
