

Forever Blue

Miracle Of Sound

What is the measure of the common man
No deeds to share
Gifts to compare

When all I have it rests in on ticking hands
I have my ways
Descent delayed

And I have tried to make you see
A brighter hue
But deep down I know I'll be
Forever blue

And there's a blackness inside me
That's breaking through
But deep down I know I'll be
Forever blue

Nobody wants to learn a thing these days
An endless coil
Of waste and toil

Empires are built upon the ashes of
The weak and frail
Those doomed to fail

And I've been trying to set free
A lighter hue
But deep down I know I'll be
Forever blue

And there's a blackness inside me
That's breaking through
But deep down I know I'll be
Forever blue

My colors will release the bonds again
I'm grown into all I could have been

All of these changes that you see
Maybe it's all just chemistry?
You've made a monster out of me
Baby it's all just chemistry

It's all just chemistry

I'm gonna burn it all
