

Everything

Miriam Bryant

Childish games, I say your name
And don't think I will ever again
Shifting blame, because you can Always wanting the upper hand
Not ready to be fine
I'm stealing your time
Your time and mine
And you are insane
But I played your games
I'll never changed

I could give you everything
Or nothing at all, nothing at all
I could give you everything
Or nothing at all, nothing at all

No, you never change, never change, never change
No, you never change, never change, never change
No, you never change, never change, never change
We're everything, or nothing at all

Parts of you, still running me through
You'll miss me forever, won't you
Let's stay this way, I enjoy the pain
Fell for you like pouring rain
Not ready to be fine
I'm stealing your time
Your time and mine

I could give you everything
Or nothing at all, nothing at all
I could give you everything
Or nothing at all, nothing at all

No, you never change, never change, never change
No, you never change, never change, never change
No, you never change, never change, never change
We're everything, or nothing at all

You were a kid and I was your big dream
Nothing was how we made it seem
We're just a photograph wasting away of a night on a dance floor in May

I could give you everything
Nothing at all, no nothing at all

No, you never change, never change, never change
No, you never change, never change, never change
No, you never change, never change, never change
We're everything, or nothing at all
