

Apathy Rules

Miss Fortune

Therapy never did much for me
However
Every chance you're willing to take
Upset her
And every friend you're willing to make
Feels lesser
There's nothing you can do that can fake
The pressure
Of doing all the things that you love
Whenever

Apathy rules over everything that I see
Keep playing these visions
Of the day that you'll leave
The only thing that makes it better
Is knowing now I'll be free
So you can go and do whatever
To numb all the pain that's never seeming to leave
Forever

Will we ever see who was right?
Chasing sunsets in California
Said I'd never leave from your side
You can't say everyone didn't warn ya

Where are you leaving tonight?
If you disappeared
Bet nobody would mourn ya
Things aren't always black and white
But seeing you leave out the door's always torture

Apathy rules over everything that I see
Keep playing these visions of the day that you'll leave
The only thing that makes it better
Is knowing now I'll be free
So you can go and do whatever
To numb all the pain that's never seeming to leave
Forever

That's the way it goes when you know
You turned my heart, once cold, into gold
And that's the way it goes when you know
You turned my heart, once cold, into gold

Apathy rules over everything that I see
Keep playing these visions
Of the day that you'll leave
The only thing that makes it better
Is knowing now I'll be free
So you can go and do whatever
To numb all the pain that's never seeming to leave
Forever