

Die for You

Miss Fortune

Taking it back
It's been for far too long
So brace yourself
'Cause it's time to move on

You'll find it hard til' you realize
There's more to life than just empty lies
It's time that we take our turn
Instead of pointing fingers

My mind's rewinding
Like wheels run in place
We've all messed up
Yeah, the devil's to blame
It's time that we move forward
I know that I'll move forward
I know there's something much more

So tell me what's the point in missing you?
When you don't say you love me too
Why waste all my time?
It's deja vu
What do you need me to do?
I would die for you

Believed all the lies
You said that I'd be nothing
Well now, what a surprise
I guess we became something after all

You'll find it hard til' you realize
There's more to life than just empty lies
It's time that we move forward
I know that I'll move forward
I know there's something more
Much more

So tell me what's the point in missing you?
When you don't say you love me
Too
Why waste all my time?
It's deja vu
What do you need me to do?
I would die for you

So battle with your selfish wish
To feel the way that you should, miss
Rewind and move on forward
Why can't we just move forward?

I find it hard you can't realize
You're breaking down like restless eyes
Reflecting to the music
I try to take the high road
One good thing could change the world

So tell me what's the point in missing you?

When you don't say you love me
Too
Why waste all my time?
It's deja vu
What do you need me to do?
I would die for you
