

The Bottom

Miss Fortune

Look the other way
Don't act like you never noticed
And never did have faith in me
You were never home
No, never home
Resent the feeling and won't let go

I knew from when I was young
That my father was bound to lose his son
I'm breaking my back just to win your love
But I'm older now, I can take care of myself
I don't hate you anymore
So don't call me when you're alone
And you're down at the bottom

Loved you yesterday
But don't act like you never noticed
You never could look out for me
You were never home
No, never home
Resent the feeling and won't let go
The sacrifice that you'll never know
And everything that was never wrong
I just wanted to say
I never need you anyway

I knew from when I was young
That my father was bound to lose his son
I'm breaking my back just to win your love
But I'm older now, I can take care of myself
I don't hate you anymore
So don't call me when you're alone
And you're down at the bottom

Look the other way
I said look the other way

I knew from when I was young
That my father was bound to lose his son
I'm breaking my back just to win your love
But I'm older now, I can take care of myself
I don't hate you anymore
So don't call me when you're alone
And you're down at the bottom

When you're down at the bottom
Don't call me when you're alone
And you're down at the bottom
