

Your Reminder

Miss Fortune

Your turned your back on what we had
Is this who you wanna be?
I promise that I'll be big mad
When you go spillin' the tea
Everything we ever had has gone away
So let this serve as your reminder
You burned your bridges with a lighter
At least I stand for something
Can't press rewind
Don't like who you're becoming
You had your time
I know you're really
You're none the wiser
Won't hold me back in the end
So don't you ever forget
You finally went off the deep end
I'm sure you agree
What do you even believe in?
What makes you better than me?
Everything we ever had has gone away
So let this serve as your reminder
You burned your bridges with a lighter
At least I stand for something

Can't press rewind
Don't like who you're becoming
You had your time
I know you're really none the wiser
Won't hold me back in the end
So don't you ever forget
I know you'll never listen
Now wait just a minute
I thought you'd be different
I was wrong in every light
But you were never willin'
I'm no longer givin'
Take me as I am or watch me go
So let this serve as your reminder
You burned your bridges with a lighter
At least I stand for something
Can't press rewind
Don't like who you're becoming
You had your time
I know you're really none the wiser
Won't hold me back in the end
So don't you ever forget
So don't you ever forget
