

Nothing Left To Say

Miss Montreal

The world could end
But you can't leave, you can't leave
And even if it were to start again
You can't leave, you can't leave

I have never felt so sure or felt like this before, never had i t all
You took me trough the pain, brought me back again
You can't leave

Don't tell me there's fucking nothing left to say
How can you look away now
We came way too far to take it all away
No one's gonna love you more
Don't you look away now
Even if there's nothing left to say

You're halfway gone
But you can't leave, you can't leave
Until you tell me what went wrong
But you can't leave, you can't leave

I have never felt so sure or felt like this before, never had i
t all
You took me trough the pain, brought me back again
You can't leave

How can you look away now
We came way too far to take it all away
No one's gonna love you more
Don't you look away now
Don't tell me there is fucking nothing left to say

Still looking for the words to make you stay

How can you look away now
We came way too far to take it all away
No one's gonna love you more
Don't you look away now
