MisterWives

Is it wrong that I wanna see you cry?
Haven't felt a thing from you in quite a while
You could still win, you could beg or borrow
Anything but sitting there, emotionless and hollow
After all, we've been through Hell
You can give me more than just an empty shell
Can't believe how far we fell
I'm not feeling it but I'm keep saying that I'm doin' well

And I'm so done with lying
Done with solo crying
I'm so done with trying
Alone, alone, alone, alone

Slipped through cracks, that we couldn't fill
Used our hundred dollar words but couldn't pay the bill
We said forever, set rules like never
Talked all the talk but we couldn't walk it together
After all, we've been through Hell

And I'm so done with lying
Done with solo crying
I'm so done with trying
Alone, alone, alone, alone

Not just emotionless, might be clueless
You couldn't handle all this
Tired of trying alone, saying that I miss you but you're already gone
And I've been through Hell
And I won't stick around and turn into an empty shell

I'm so done with lying
Done with solo crying
I'm so done with trying
Alone, alone, alone, alone
