

Dagger

MisterWives

Death by a thousand little cuts
I'm always coming back for more
Can never seem to get enough
My favorite lesson to ignore
Empathy loves a narcissist
Setting fires to every bridge
And never think of what you did

When it all goes wrong maybe it's right
When it all goes wrong maybe it's right
When it all goes wrong maybe it's right
When it all goes, all goes wrong

Try to forgive
But can't forget
All of the words you said
A dagger to the head
It's time to fold
Hard letting go
Of all the words you said
A dagger to the head

All of the words you said
A dagger to the head

I dream of a garden
Not growing resentment
I used to want karma
But I need contentment
Been treading the water
I'm sick of the tension
I used to want karma
But I need contentment

When it all goes wrong maybe it's right
When it all goes wrong maybe it's right
When it all goes wrong maybe it's right
When it all goes, all goes wrong

Try to forgive
But can't forget
All of the words you said
A dagger to the head
It's time to fold
Hard letting go
Of all the words you said
A dagger to the head

All of the words you said
A dagger to the head

Said I'm not good enough
But you love to take everything I got
Use me to build you up
Just a stepping stone to connect your dots
You'll give everyone a show
Such a performer, they'll never know

Collect your flowers now
While you paint a smile
And drag me down

A dagger to the head

It's time to fold
A dagger to the head
But can't forget
