

Got Today

Mitch James

Huddle round a frozen fire
Our eyes dilate
We tempted fate again
And we've been talking shit for hours
On wooden crates
Another day would end
Growing up

They don't tell you all the things that you can do
Had to find it out for myself

These times will slip away
Falling through the breaks
How much can ya take
Before you lose yourself in the world
Well I'm wishing right now
It would come back around
But you know that we only got today

Well we used to be so wild
The drinking games
We'd waste the day away
Running round like it's a riot
We looked insane
It's fun and games until you grow up

And they tell you all the things that you can't do
Had to find it out for myself

These times will slip away
Falling through the breaks
How much can ya take
Before you lose yourself in the world
Well I'm wishing right now
It would come back around
But you know that we only got today

I miss the days that didn't need 'em faces
The people made me who I am
I wouldn't change it, I wouldn't trade it
No nothing made us give up then

These times will slip away
Falling through the breaks
How much can you take
Before we lose ourselves
And I know, I'm wishing right now
It would come back around
But you know that we only...

These times will slip away
Falling through the breaks
How much can ya take
Before we lose ourselves in the world
Well I'm wishing right now
