

Sunday Morning

Mitch James

Open the door and let me in
Clothes on the floor before we say a word
Baby, I like the way you operate

Take off the halo from your head
Crazy how you can be two different girls
Right now I love the way you are

But when you wake up
You put on that angel face again
Telling me, telling me everything we did was wrong
But you were the one, that brought me home
You say...

You're a saint and I'm a sinner
But I guess that I'm good enough when you're lonely
That's when you call me
Yeah, Yeah

You're a Saint, I'm a sinner
But I guess that I'm good enough when it's 3am and you're lonely
As long as I'm gone by Sunday

Sunday Morning
Sunday, Sunday, Sunday
Sunday Morning

Sunday, Sunday, Sunday, Sunday

You say that we could never work
Telling me that we come from different worlds
You don't even like the way I operate

So why did you call me up again
Kissing me like you never said a word
I guess it's just the way you are

But when you wake up
You put on that angel face again
Telling me, telling me everything we did was wrong
But you were the one, who brought me home
And you said...

You're a saint and I'm a sinner
But I guess that I'm good enough when you're lonely
That's when you call me
Yeah, Yeah

You're a Saint, I'm a sinner
But I guess that I'm good enough when it's 3am and you're lonely
As long as I'm gone by Sunday

Sunday Morning
Sunday, Sunday, Sunday
Sunday Morning

Sunday, Sunday, Sunday, Sunday

I wanna wake up
I wanna wake up in your bed
Don't wanna wait till
It's 3am to see you again

I wanna wake up
I wanna wake up in your bed
Don't wanna wait till
It's 3am to see you again

I wanna wake up
I wanna wake up in your bed
Don't wanna wait till
It's 3am to see you again

I wanna wake up
I wanna wake up in your bed
Don't wanna wait till
It's 3am to see you again

And you say...
You're a saint and I'm a sinner
But I guess that I'm good enough when you're lonely
That's when you call me
Yeah, Yeah

You're a Saint, I'm a sinner
But I guess that I'm good enough when it's 3am and you're lonely
As long as I'm gone by Sunday Morning
Sunday, Sunday, Sunday
Sunday Morning
Sunday, Sunday, Sunday
Sunday Morning
Sunday, Sunday, Sunday
Sunday Morning

Sunday Morning
