

Homesick

MitiS

I can always tell when you're lonely
The way your voice gets sweeter when you want me
It's so obvious that I want you too

It's like I feel it worse when I'm sleeping
In strange place with you when I'm dreaming
Wishing I could wake up and be next to you

When the phone calls ain't enough to get through this
When you need to feel my love

You can pack up a suitcase
And hop on an airplane
Whenever your sunshine turns to rain
When you're feeling homesick
You know where my heart is
I'm only a thousand miles away

A thousand miles away

You can pack up a suitcase
And hop on an airplane
Whenever your sunshine turns to rain
When you're feeling homesick
You know where my heart is
I'm only a thousand miles away

We can find a way through the distance
Make it work, let's speak it to existence
While we both look up into a diamond sky

So hard keep all of the pieces
So easy to forget the reasons
But you and me are worth it all

When the phone calls ain't enough to get through this
When you need to feel my love

You can pack up a suitcase
And hop on an airplane
Whenever your sunshine turns to rain
When you're feeling homesick
You know where my heart is
I'm only a thousand miles away
Home
I'm only a thousand miles away

You can pack up a suitcase
And hop on an airplane
Whenever your sunshine turns to rain
When you're feeling homesick
You know where my heart is
I'm only a thousand miles away

Home
I'm only a thousand miles away
