

If He

Mk.gee

Whether he gets tired of holding your hand
Leave you down, cause he knows he can
I'll be right here if you want to come home
Bring you close cause I know you're alone

If he doesn't know what he has when he's with you
If only my love was something you knew
If he can't give you all that you need
Drop all the baggage, come running to me

And come home

Late nights alone I start losing my mind
Thinking about how you've been wasting your time
So, I sit here wishing for tables to turn
Wishing that one of these days you will learn

Please come home
Please come home
