Mk.gee

Drowning in all the work that I don't want to do
I know how to run, but don't know how to think things through Running out of time, every day is like the last
I don't do shit and I wonder why it's going so fast

And it feels like I'm tumblin' down
All the things I love has hit the ground
And the shapes I thought I'd never see
Seem to be running around me

And it feels like I'm tumblin' down
And it feels like I'm tumblin' down
All the things I love is tumblin' down
Everything I know is tumblin' down
All the things I know are tumblin' down
Everything I know is tumblin' down
All the things I know are tumblin' down

I don't need your love, I've just gotta get through the day
While you check the time, I will think of something to say
I might need your drugs, everyone's gotta get through the night
I get distracted by the night lights, tryna figure out my life
(Woo)

And it feels like I'm tumblin' down
All the things I love has hit the ground
And the shapes I thought I'd never see
Seem to be running around me

And it feels like I'm tumblin' down
And it feels like I'm tumblin' down
All the things I love is tumblin' down
Everything I know is tumblin' down
All the things I know are tumblin' down
Everything I know is tumblin' down
All the things I know are tumblin' down
