

Fate

Mnemonic

You think you teach me
How to intensify myself
You'd better watch me
Throwing all the pressure away

You should have taught me
How to hypnotize my faith
You'd better watch me
Throwing all the pressure away

Day after day
It's just the same old song
I'm fading away

Will I get old?
Will I get old?
I will get old

You should have taught me
To wipe your own dirt to blind me
You should have watched me
Smashing your face up along my way

You shouldn't have told me
How to liquefy my fate
You should have watched me

Will I get old?
Will I get old?

But through your eyes again
Some of us will stare

You think you teach me
You think you know me
You think you watch me
You think you know me

Will I get old?
Will I get old?

But through your eyes again
Some of us will stare
Through your eyes again
Some of us will stare

Some, some
Some of us will stare
Some, some
Some of us will stare
