

Everywhere

Mo Pitney

I open up my eyes and feel you by my side before the morning light even hits me
There's comfort in the knowing that anywhere I'm going,
I know you'll be rolling with me

Everywhere, every step
Every sunrise, every sunset
Every word I say, every night and day
Every single move, everything I do
Everywhere
Everywhere
Everywhere

As I walk through this life, on my left and on my right
Even when I cast an eye in my rear view
I feel you ever close in the whisper of the road
This journey unfolds, I see you

Everywhere, every step
Every sunrise, every sunset
Every word I say, every night and day
Every single move, everything I do
Everywhere
Everywhere
Everywhere

In the sunshine
When the rain pours
In this heart of mine
I know you're
Everywhere

Everywhere every step
Every sunrise, every sunset
Everything I see, every ounce of me
Every breath of air in turn every prayer
Everywhere
Everywhere
Everywhere

Everywhere
