The Ceremony of Innocence

Moby

There was a dark, in all this
There was a darkness I liked
Dancing under sails at dawn
Dancing under sails and they're gone

I brought this
I brought it for you
I brought the sight, I brought the light
I brought the time you wanted
I brought it like a savior and I knew what I couldn't do
Drowning like a savior and I knew what I couldn't do
So much I could never do

You said it was easy to see you with your eyes closed
But there was nothing to me, seeing through me
There was nothing to me, no one knew me
The lightless floor, the closing doors
Falling up
Just see me once more, so I know I was here
