

Changing Fate

Mocca

In the darkest hour of night
I'm sitting here
Waiting for your reply

In the coldest chill of night
I'm standing still
Waiting for your sign

What do we have now? Take a look at us.
Though it takes courage. Do we have enough?
Do we let love depreciate or do we dare to change our fate?

In the twilight hue of dawn
I lie awake quiet and withdrawn

On the window pane the beating rain
Plays a lonely song

What do we have now? Take a look at us.
Though it takes courage. Do we have enough?
Do we let love depreciate or do we dare to change our fate?

In the coldest chill of night
I'm standing still
Waiting for your sign

What do we have now? Take a look at us.
Though it takes courage. Do we have enough?
Do we let love depreciate or do we dare to change our fate?

Take a look at us. Do we have enough? (what about us now)
Take a look at us. Do we dare to change our fate? (what about us now)
Take a look at us. Do we have enough? (what about us now)
Take a look at us. Do we dare to change our fate?

In the darkest hour of night
I'm sitting here
Waiting for your reply