

Accidentally On Purpose Tonight

Moe Bandy

You'll just happen to be where you'll run in to me
And I'll make sure to keep tonight free
Some may call it cheating, but we call it love
But whatever they call it, we can't get enough

We're just two lonely people with two lonely hearts
We've started a love affair we never meant to start
We can't meet on purpose and we know the reason why
So meet me accidentally on purpose tonight

Love leads us in and we're ready again
Pretending it's the last time, it's time we give in
We can't help what we're doing when that old feeling strikes
So meet me accidentally on purpose tonight

We're just two lonely people with two lonely hearts
We've started a love affair we never meant to start
We can't meet on purpose and we know the reason why
So meet me accidentally on purpose tonight
So meet me accidentally on purpose tonight
