

Cathedral

moe.

break outside x4

tunnel vision, for a hundred thousand miles indecision, focused as a tiny child dilation, light escaping from your eye keeping station, time lapses in the world outside palpitation, thumping like a humming bird concentration, missing every single word no admission, all the money in the world on a mission, spinning like a little girl feel confined, so recline break outside of your cathedral heart is beating inside out of you inch by inch and step by step is the best that you can do your eyes on the horizon and you don't look down the temperature keeps rising and your head keeps spinning round and round feel confined so recline break outside of your cathedral break outside of your cathedral of your cathedral break outside of your cathedral break outside x10 break outside of your cathedral break outside of your cathedral of your cathedral break outside of your cathedral