

Letting go

Mohombi

Gotta get myself together
Tryna make it through tonight
Tell myself that we were never broken
There were times that I thought I might be
Finding ways to make it right
But you walked away and opened up my eyes

Now I see that I've been wasting time
I had a picture of us painted in my mind
Now it's fading and there's nothing left to do

Letting go, cause I know
You were only half way there
Even though, we were close
I was holding on just long enough to know
I should be letting go
I should be letting go

Thinking back on when you used to
Fill my heart with empty words
Wishing now that I'd refuse to listen
How did I ever let it happen
Never thought I'd ever say
Gotta leave this life and all the foolish pain

Now I see that I've been wasting time
I had a picture of us painted in my mind
Now it's fading and there's nothing left to do

Letting go (Letting go)
Cause I know (Cause I know)
You were only half way there
Even though (Even though)
We were close (We were close)
I was holding on just long enough to know
I should be letting go
I should be letting go

Now I see that I've been wasting time
I had a picture of us painted in my mind
Now it's fading and there's nothing left to do

Letting go (Letting go)
Cause I know (Cause I know)
You were only half way there
Even though (Even though)
We were close (We were close)

I was holding on just long enough to know
I should be letting go (I should let you go)
I should be letting go