

Happily Ever After

Moira Dela Torre

When reality is better than your dreams
That is exactly what I feel when you look at me
When heaven's gate to open just for me
That's exactly what I feel when you're next to me
And now the wait is over
And now I stare at you in wonder

Who could've thought it's always been you
It's been you all this time
No I can't believe that you're mine
Who could've thought that fairytales were true
Cause here I am with you
About to say I do
To happily ever after with you

When reality is better than my dreams
When there's nothing else to dream
When my dream is next to me
When loving you is like catching a falling stars
Baby you're catching my heart and letting me fall into your arms
I can't believe the wait is over
And now I stand and loving you forever

Who could've thought it's always been you
It's been you all this time
No I can't believe that you're mine
Who could've thought that fairytales were true
Cause here I am with you
About to say I do
To happily ever after with you

I'm giving up and trying not to love you
I'm saying yes to happily ever after with you
I've fallen in love a thousand times
Over and over again
And I can't believe it's me who gets to love you too
My best friend

Who could've thought it's always been you
It's been you all this time
No I can't believe that you're mine
Who could've thought that fairytales were true
Cause here I am with you
About to say I do
To happily ever after with you
