

When You're Drifting

Mojave 3

When was the day
When suddenly all of the time rolled away?
You were drifting along
Having some fun when you noticed the clock

Suddenly everything fell out of place
Burned all your bridges 'cause you grew up too late
The people you love are just so far away

When you're drifting
When you're drifting

Ten years on the road
And you still can't make it back home
You were caught out on your own
Still waiting for the whistle to blow

Suddenly everything fell out of place
Burned all your bridges 'cause you grew up too late
The people you love are just so far away

When you're drifting
When you're drifting
When you're drifting

Suddenly everything fell out of place
Burned all your bridges 'cause you grew up too late
People you love are just so far away

When you're drifting
When you're drifting
When you're drifting
When you're drifting

When you're drifting
When you're drifting
When you're drifting
