

Vengeance

Molly Hatchet

I'm a man on a mission, a man made of stone
Running down the highway foot through the firewall
Never sleeps, never dreams, said he has no soul
But that ain't how it seems
Running thru the back woods, runnin' by the lane
Running thru the trailer parks and running thru the pain
From the top of the highest mountains to the bottom of the sea
I'll never stop till I find you I never will be free

I'm coming for your life
I'm here to do what is right
I don't care who understands
Your date with destiny in no man's land
How 'bout some vengeance

Back on the road, pistol in hand
Ready to do some business to go ahead as planned
In the dennison of evil is where this man will be

Cowering in the darkness just waiting there for me

I'm coming for your life
I'm here to do what is right
I don't care who understands
Your date with destiny is close at hand
How 'bout some vengeance

A solitary man with broken dreams of yesterday
I've got to do this myself and I'll never go away
Any stone you crawl under, anywhere you try and hide
You better keep on running, there's no way to save your life

I'm coming for your life
I'm here to do what is right
I don't care who understands
Your date with destiny is close at hand
How 'bout some vengeance
How 'bout some vengeance... vengeance
How 'bout some vengeance
