

Million Miles

Molly Tuttle

Called the cable man 'cause my screen was blurry
Seems the more I rush all I do is worry
I'm too much like my mom, all she does is hurry
What's a girl to do today?

Gonna let the ocean flood underneath my door and
Carry me and my couch away
If you were here you'd be my lifeboat, save me
But you're a million miles away
You're a million miles away

Saw my friends today, they all want the story
How can I explain? Went down in a blaze of glory
If I could see your face this time I'd say I'm sorry
But I know that it's too late

Gonna let the ocean flood underneath my door and
Carry me and my couch away
If you were here you'd be my lifeboat, save me
But you're a million miles away
You're a million miles away

Gonna let the ocean flood underneath my door and
Carry me and my couch away
If you were here you'd be my lifeboat, save me
But you're a million miles away
You're a million miles away

You're a million miles away
