

Save This Heart

Molly Tuttle

Trace my finger on the map
Tryna make out where you are
You know I do the best I can, but I can't take this anymore

Your letters get shorter, the days get longer
I call across the border, it's static on the line
Save this heart of mine

Darling don't forsake my hand
Swear the light is not too far
Think I finally understand what you've known clearly from the start

But your letters get shorter, the days get longer
I call across the border, it's static on the line
Save this heart of mine

Do you feel me in your blood?
Am I the poison in your veins?
Deep down I've known you were the one, is it too little too late?

But your letters get shorter, the days get longer
I call across the border, it's static on the line
Save this heart of mine
Save this heart of mine
