

When You're Ready

Molly Tuttle

Your eyes a silent movie
Shades of gray tell me a story you're trying to sell
But I know you better than you know yourself
You know yourself

Send me a signal
I can see now at a distance, your sails are down
You took the long way to come around
Come around

When you're ready
A piece of the falling sky is too heavy
I could be by your side if you'd let me
You don't have to carry it all
I'll be waiting for the call
When you're ready

My door is open now
I could let you in
If you come crashing down
I'll be right here
When you're ready

When you're ready
A piece of the falling sky is too heavy
I could be by your side if you'd let me
You don't have to carry it all
I'll be waiting for the call
When you're ready

When you're ready
When you're ready
